4 - Beaker – Round 1

Welcome to another instalment of me playing half an Uberhood! This time we have the Beakers!

After Regan and Cornwall, it seems we have another loved up couple here, however problematic they are.

Circe fucks off to work and we have Loki and Nervous arguing but also agreeing with each other. They have a weird relationship

They don't really play. They are just hitting each other with the ball xD

Shit talk Vidcund xD

And back to argue/agree chatting

And, here we have Olive stealing the invisible newspaper

Welcome Wagon has arrived and Nervous is hitting it off with PT9

Wow he even accepted to be tickled by him! I usually head canon that Pascal helps Nervous get away from Beakers but it looks like this time Mr. Smith will have a hand in it too!

Circe has been promoted to Resident Lvl 5!
You've been promoted to a night shift residency in the Emergency Room. This is an obviously stressful position, so make sure home is a comforting place. You'll need fun, rest, and proper meals, or you won't succeed. If you work on the proper diagnoses, care for those tough cases, and develop a good bedside manner, your promotion to General Practitioner will come quickly.
Circe now works from 18:00 to 01:00 starting immediately. Circe brought home §672 today and got a bonus of §1,344!

Great!

I didn't know they actually wished for this ffs xD

Yes, they have just came down from a woohoo.

More PT and Nervous bonding

They would become besties if Pascal is ever home when Nervous calls! He is pregnant why isn't he at home??

Oh look who is not feeling well!

Meanwhile Nervous is busy typing mails to PT and Pascal.

It seems like they all go to Nervous for their shit talking needs xD

This is the reason why I always give Loki secondary family. The man has a soft spot change my mind!

First bump!

He is a romantic too. They are evil but they are evil in love!

Made Best Friends with Pascal
(Pascal Curious)
Wow! I've never met anyone I liked this much before. . . Now I've got your back and you've got mine.

Wants to friend Pt as well!

Bump no.2!

Nervous just went to talk to her belly on his own and Circe accepted??! Maybe he doesn't need to escape and they might just let him go?

I did nothing to get them to get along. They just chatted, gossiped and played red hands on their own and ended up becoming friends. All of them missing some nice and playful points probably helped those relationships xD

Loki has been promoted to Scholar Lvl 7!
You have been named Chairman of the Science Department at Sim University. The regents are depending on your leadership and logical thinking to invigorate the school's science curriculum. This is a high-paying, well-respected position with good hours and more time at home, but it takes a well-rounded skill set to guarantee success and promotion.
Loki now works from 08:00 to 13:00 starting immediately. Loki brought home §896 today and got a bonus of §1,792!

I can't believe Kent is on a higher level than Loki in science career xD

Veronaville townie. She is kinda pretty, deserves a little makeover

I'm very excited that I tried this Science activity! That was a lot of fun!
Turns out I'm your boss's cousin, and I'm phoning in a favor he owes me. Next time you go to work Loki, you'll be getting a promotion.

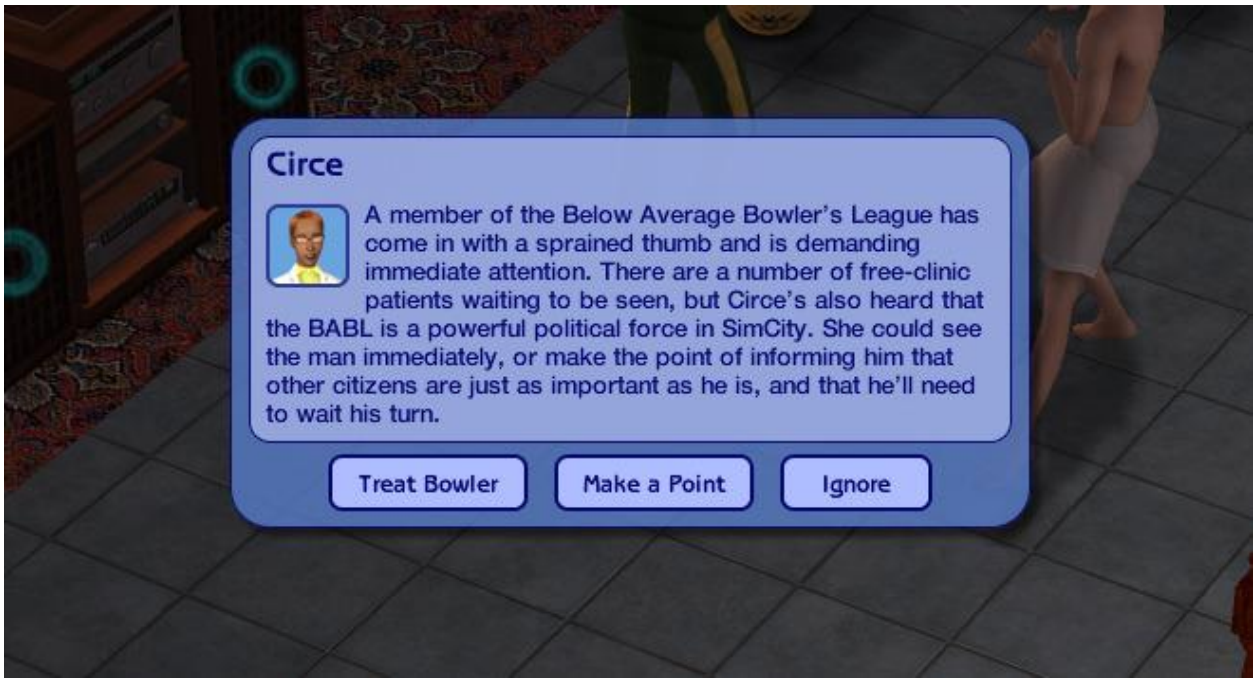
Well he already had the skills but thanks

She has wishes to level up her skills so there she goes

oop never mind xD

Meet Tyr Beaker! Since he is all his father I thought I should continue the Nordic themed names. I wish he got Circe's skin but what can you do?

All fears about Circe and also wants to kiss her.



Circe
A member of the Below Average Bowler's League has come in with a sprained thumb and is demanding immediate attention. There are a number of free-clinic patients waiting to be seen, but Circe's also heard that the BABL is a powerful political force in SimCity. She could see the man immediately, or make the point of informing him that other citizens are just as important as he is, and that he'll need to wait his turn.

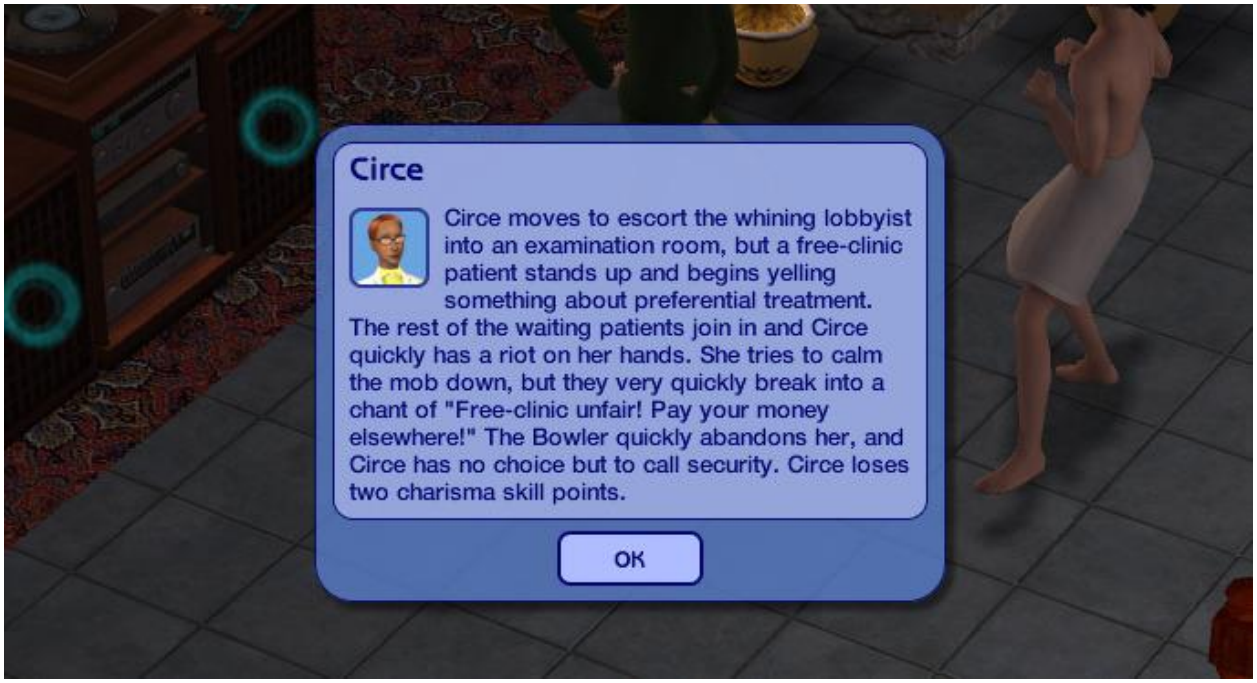
I think Circe would definitely treat Bowler



Circe
Circe moves to escort the whining lobbyist into an examination room, but a free-clinic patient stands up and begins yelling something about preferential treatment. The rest of the waiting patients join in and Circe quickly has a riot on her hands. She tries to calm the mob down, but they very quickly break into a chant of "Free-clinic unfair! Pay your money elsewhere!" The Bowler quickly abandons her, and Circe has no choice but to call security. Circe loses two charisma skill points.
OK

lol well jokes on them she didn't have any charisma points

They just get along??!

Circe is home which means Loki is busy now

They became best friends!

He got along with Loki all day and now became besties with Circe, I consider this their approval of him leaving.

With now Tyr to take care of having a dungeon and a slave doesn't really send a good message to a baby Circe bonded already.

Nervous is out on his own!

I don't know which family will be next as I haven't played it yet but see you then!

5 - Lothario – Round 1

Alright, we are back to Pleasantview, this time to Don!

Don's romantic life is really humming along! Maybe now's the time to put the moves on Nina Caliente. Pick up the phone to invite her over.
Wants
Fears

This place is a mess! Use the phone to hire a maid.
Don wants to win Nina over, and it looks like she's slowly succumbing to his wily charms. Maybe now's the time to suggest a romantic soak in the hot tub!

I follow the prompts

And we have Nina's first woohoo out of the way xD I wasn't going to invite Dina over like he has the wish to woohoo her also and it got rerolled after he got the Nina wish. But when I gave him the updated wants slot he wished for it again and Nina fucked off so fast after the woohoo.

I hope no one sees them kissing. Imagine you're Don's neighbour and you see he is kissing a redhead in the morning a blonde in the next morning and he is with a brunette in the evening who he claims is his fiancee.

Dude, creepy xD

Anyways, I don't need to do more after this as ACR takes over

I forward the woohoo to the bed tho as he has a wish to woohoo there

When... when did you get food poisoning?? Oh wait, he ate those spoiled food in Regan's house xD ffs Don. Let this be a lesson kids

Only one day after playing with him. Look at this mess

Don is off to work but Dina doesn't seem too bothered about it. Just chillin in the tub he porked her sister in yesterday.

I gave Don the full romance tree and a secondary Knowledge because of Skell's story he is forever a nerd playboy in my eyes.

He is here calling in sick to work. I really do not want to lose my favourite sim in Pleasantview to food poisoning xD

A few hours later we have the good news that Don is healthy again so he is off meeting people as he has already moved on from Nina and Dina in his wish panel

Unfortunately for him Erin is the only eligible adult and she is too smart for his shenanigans

He goes back home empty handed xD

Look at that knowledge aspiration take over his wants xD

It is his day off so he's off to the pool this time. Demi Love seems to be getting along with him, he talked earlier with that pink pants lady but it didn't take.

He wishes immediately to go on a date with her and I spring to action.

He however wakes up alone the next morning. And spends the entire day in the hot tub taking advantage of the fact that I was distracted and goes to work late

Don now works from 18:00 to 01:00 starting immediately. Don brought home §672 today and got a bonus of §1,344!

Yet, still manages to get a promo

To celebrate, he invites Demi over and things progress as you expect

No girl, do not get a crush on him

Classy as ever they finish the date on the couch xD

And he is already ready to move on

It is hilarious to me that he has these as an outerwear and I put this stereo on Metal. He heard me!

He meets this OFB lady before he has to go to work. Unfortunetely for him Demi could be the last girl he meets for a while, depending on how things will go over at the Goth's.

Now that I played him for 6 days I realized I can't actually get them to marry on the first day because he will be older. We'll see what happens.

Don
The Below Average Bowler is at first taken aback, but soon becomes furious, spouting off lines about how she has personally financed SimCity General, and is the biggest supporter of the hospital's free clinic. Don tries to calm her down, but before he can get very far, a General Practitioner swoops in and takes the lobbyist into an examination room. Don returns to treating the free-clinic patients, but as he goes to put on his coat he notices that his paycheck has gone missing from his coat pocket. Don loses a day's pay.

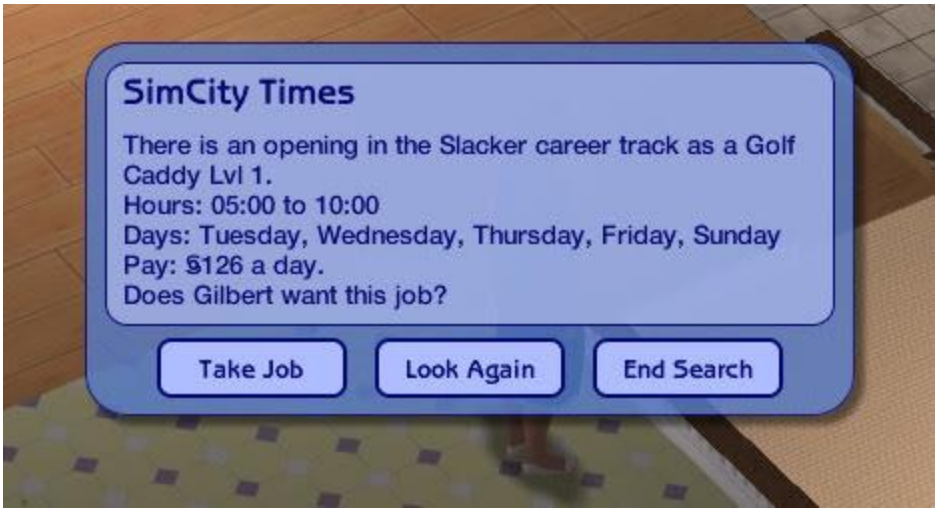
He is a chad and he actually did get paid at the end of the day so nothing really happened other than a funny story xD

6 - Jacquet – Round 1

Jacquet
223 Idlewild Street
§61,419
Bluewater Village. Will they go from rags to riches and create a healthy franchise system that goes public? Or will they fail and watch their dreams crumble like a week old

Here we are, now the description more or less says that their bakery is in trouble and yeah, it really is not easy to run one of those

Specially when your son is more interested in flirting with the staff then actually do the work xD the first day was painful and they lost a bunch of money.



SimCity Times
There is an opening in the Slacker career track as a Golf Caddy Lvl 1.
Hours: 05:00 to 10:00
Days: Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Sunday

Seeing as Gilbert has absolutely no interest in baking or being a business owner I decided to grant him his wish of being a slacker. Someone needs to earn a regular paycheck in this house or they are gonna go broke

Next day, Denise goes to the bakery on her own. Helping a misplaced Jennifer Burb out of the kitchen.

-Ma'am this is a kitchen

*Confused Jen face *

Denise tries her best but things are not going well

At home, Gilbert who has the day off gives the ownership of the bakery to his mother. Why was he the owner of the place in the first place?? And calls Florence over. I love Florence so much. And She will not end up with this himbo but I kind of like the idea of the two of them being each other's first love

Florence hits him with an admire, she is so adorable

This is just the game and ACR working it's magic. They just get along well.

I normally try to hold off until I play the family to give makeovers but I love this hair on Florence and I couldn't wait.

They are getting along and Gilbert has a wish to ask someone out so here we go

It doesn't take them long xD

There is a new trend in my Uberhood, becoming best friends while woohooing on the couch xD

I knew they'd have a good time xD

And they finish just in time!

-Have you behaved yourself while I was away?

-Ofc, nothing interesting happened on this couch.

-What?

-What? o.O

I don't know if Denise bought it xD

Denise will be running the bakery so I have her the motivation tree

And Gilbert will help out on his day offs so it's split between two trees for him. I don't know yet what will be his secondary. So far he is full on romance for me

Denise had a wish to meet someone new and I thought, what the hell, let Gilbert introduce Florence to her

And Denise... lmao she wasted no time before showing to Florence who truly is in Gilbert's heart xD

Jokes on her though Florence bolted to his bed and called him up. And yes, that is Gilbert falling in love before Florence. And I have that ACR thing where they don't always fall in love even if they have 100-100 relationship.

Florence does too - mid woohoo. Gilbert must be good in the sack xD

Florence does too - mid woohoo. Gilbert must be good in the sack xD

Gilbert has been promoted to Gas Station Attendant Lvl 2!
The hours are doable. The pay is pretty lousy. On occasion you find yourself with odd headaches which result from the fumes. But hey, you've got all the delights of the snack cake and magazine racks right at your fingertips! Enjoy!
Gilbert now works from 22:00 to 03:00 starting immediately. Gilbert brought home §154 today and got a bonus of §308!
Denise is due home at 19 : 21 on Wednesday
Time remaining:
9 Hours : 11 Minutes

As you can see I skipped over Denise's shift at the bakery as it is absolute hell running that place. On the other side, Gilbert is doing good in this slacker thing

Hi. You've reached Brooke's answering machine. I'm not home right now, so try calling again later. Thanks.

I tried both girls he has a crush on but both hit him with this. It wasn't to ask for a date just to talk. (He had a crush on Kathrine too but lost it when they interacted on that first day)

He is clearly not over Florence and with no one else around he gives her a call again.

I'm not gonna lie, this is one aesthetically pleasing shot

Hey, Gilbert, are we still friends? I never hear from you anymore, so I figured I'd check in to see what was going on. Would it kill you to make an effort every once in a while?

Oh Florence...

They had another dream date but who is surprised really?

Look at that swag xD

Lol, they finished up once again right before Denise came back and Florence is stuck with her alone this time xD

Gilbert has been promoted to Convenience Store Clerk Lvl 3!
The customers are considerably less wealthy than those in your last job, but there is plenty of free soda pop and candy bars—not a bad trade. Besides, all your friends can hang out at the store late in the evening and read the comics while you pretend to work.
Gilbert now works from 09:00 to 15:00 starting immediately. Gilbert brought home §210 today and got a bonus of §420!

Yet another promotion! They'd be toast without his income as they have no income from the bakery xD

Gilbert
The store is empty, except of course for Crazy Bill (who just hangs out in the canned goods section talking about how he used to work for some big company that invented apricots), so Gilbert decides to walk around the store with a broom and pretend he's sweeping. He spots a coin beneath the FrigglyFreeze machine and jams the broom back behind the compressor to try to get it out. The machine goes haywire and starts spewing frozen Friggly liquid everywhere. Should Gilbert try to fix it with duct tape or with chewing gum?

When in doubt, duck tape

Gilbert
Thinking like all the quick thinking actors he's seen on television, Gilbert grabs a roll of duct tape from the Hardware/Baby Food aisle and tapes the corrugated anti-drip nozzle guard to the primary gasket seal. To Gilbert's amazement, it works! Gilbert earns 1 mechanical skill point and pours himself and Crazy Bill a Friggly on the house.

yeah, nothing goes wrong with duct tape

Yes, once again I have no pictures from Denise's day at work because it's just me struggling and rarely have time to stop and took pics xD Anyways, Gilbert brings home this dude

How nice of you to invite me. I'll just gussy up and come right over!
Denise is due home at 20 : 48 on Thursday

Relationships

As much as I'd like to fulfil his wish to friend him, he has other business to attend.

One flirt,

And it is time to ask out on a date

They get along fine, despite starting with a higher relationship than him and Florence, this was as far as they took things.

And the unfortunate happened as they got robbed that night

She got away

The piano was gone

yep, it's gone. And they cannot afford to buy another piano, it's gone

I had a ridiculously fun time on our outing! I thought I'd commemorate the event with this gift. Here's a VocoPhonicSim Karaoke Machine!

But don't you worry as Florence got them covered! xD it's not the full cost of the piano but half of it. Still saves their ass for a few more days

Look who do we have at the bakery! Looking good, Pascal

Meanwhile Denise is busy annoying the customers who refuses to buy things xD she tried to sell her something, she didn't get it and while I was distracted by Pascal she went and annoyed her. This is the poor customer fighting back xD

Literal seconds later Kathrine quit xD

Welp, there she goes. Off to fuck Gilbert no doubt

We have a new ~~victim~~ cashier as it is easy to just hire them. It is unfortunate Kathrine learned the bronze badge for cashier stuff, oh well

Back in the house you can see Gilbert still has some fears regarding Florence but no specific wants. It is sweet to me that he wasn't able to move on from her that easily but a himbo must do what a himbo does so he calls Kathrine

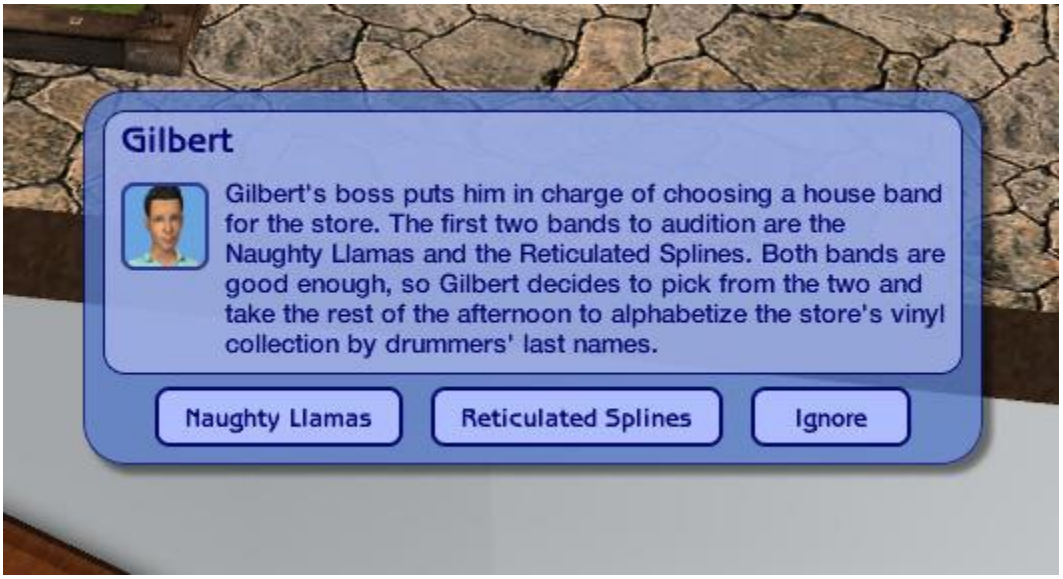
Gilbert is no where near falling in love with her and he probably won't even wish for her again after this xD

Next day at the bakery, things are not going well as Denise has a special visitor

And our second cashier decides to quit right in front of him, needless to say the reporter wasn't impressed and she didn't get a good review.



Gilbert
Gilbert's boss puts him in charge of choosing a house band for the store. The first two bands to audition are the Naughty Llamas and the Reticulated Splines. Both bands are good enough, so Gilbert decides to pick from the two and take the rest of the afternoon to alphabetize the store's vinyl collection by drummers' last names.

I don't know, knowing Gilbert imma say Naughty Llamas

Gilbert
A few hours later, The Naughty Llamas play their first show at the store. Who knew that they used real llamas on stage?
Gilbert is forced to pay for the structural damage to the store totaling §849.

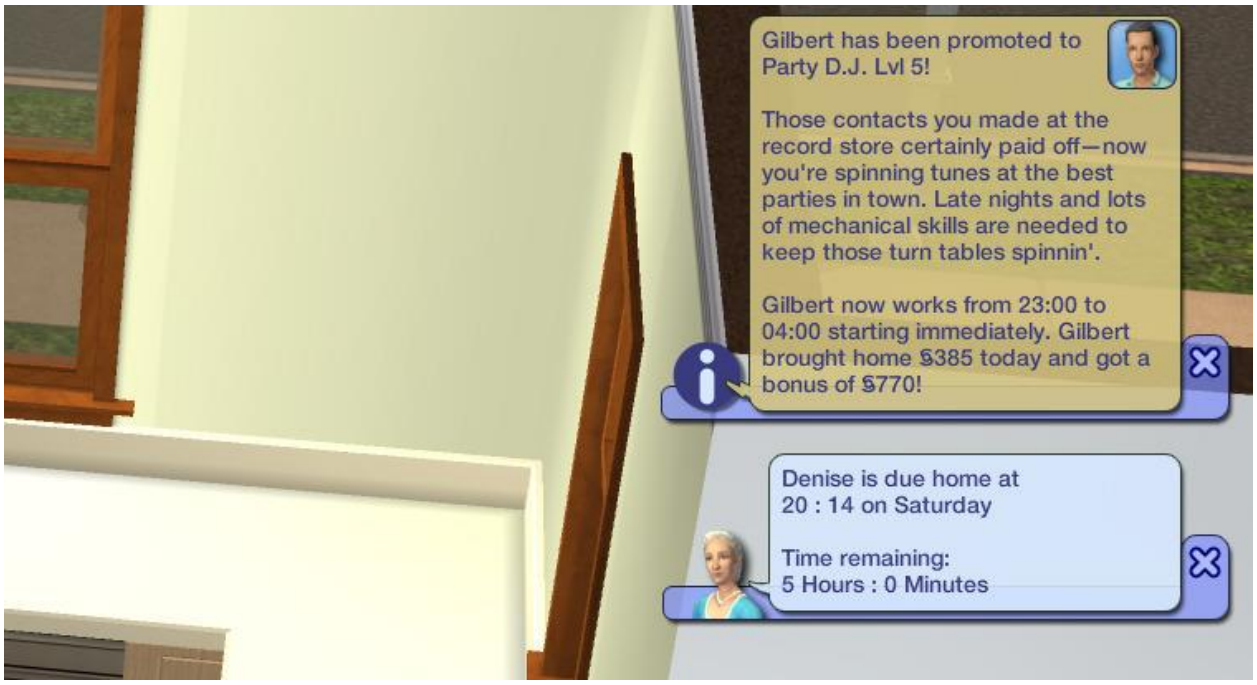
oh, bollox



Gilbert has been promoted to Party D.J. Lvl 5!
Those contacts you made at the record store certainly paid off—now you're spinning tunes at the best parties in town. Late nights and lots of mechanical skills are needed to keep those turn tables spinnin'.
Gilbert now works from 23:00 to 04:00 starting immediately. Gilbert brought home §385 today and got a bonus of §770!
Denise is due home at 20 : 14 on Saturday

And he celebrates by calling Brooke. It doesn't take long for him to get her upstairs as they already had a great relationship

Hi, I'm Carmen! Since my friend Katherine had such a great time with you the other day, I thought I'd see if you wanted to go Downtown?
Yes
No

Does he ever? I said no because didn't feel like going downtown. I called her right after for a date because I was curious if she would agree to come over and...

Yes, she did! Oh, forgot Brooke was still here. Anyways, Gilbert quickly said goodbye to her and focused on Carmen

Gossiping about Brandi??

-Did you know that she got all expensive furniture after her husband crooked?

But she got Dustin the expensive pinball machine, didn't spend it all on herself!

You are simply the coolest Sim I've met in ages. I'm going to spread the word to everyone I know. Gilbert, your reputation is on its way up!

This thing is amazing, it was so easy to get along with her because she had that blue tinged thing on her portrait

I realized at this moment that I forgot to dress him up xD He literally rolled off the bed with Brooke and came to this, oh the depravity of sims 2

It was a good thing I asked her to come instead of going out because Gilbert has to go to work!

He hangs around a little bit more so I can push the date to dream date

+500
Wow, that was about the best time I ever had with ANYBODY!!! I REALLY want to go out with you again! Please, oh please, oh pleeeeeease? I can't wait to tell all my friends!

And he’s done xD

Later that night, Kathrine brings him this fucking thing that costs 5k! At this point I'm seriously contemplating being a "great date" as a job for this man. Exactly how good is he in bed??

As fun as this was, sadly 6 days was up so we need to move on. Next will be Malcolm! Another one of my favourite sims.
